

Strategy Manager

We are currently looking for a Strategy Manager to join the team the Strategic Development team, on a permanent basis. This role can be based in either our Darlington or London office.

You will be responsible for supporting the development of Railpen's business strategy and for ensuring that Railpen's strategy meets the long term needs of our stakeholders. You will research trends in the pensions industry and beyond and form insights which drive the business forward.

The successful candidate will have excellent analytical skills and people skills. You will establish relationships throughout the organisation and the wider industry. You will take a creative approach to enable you to 'think outside the box' as well as use your initiative and be confident in presenting your recommendations.

Candidates for this role may come from a number of different backgrounds. You may come from a management consulting background and have experience in developing business strategies. Alternatively, you may have a background within the fields of financial services, pensions, actuarial or asset management and be excited about an opportunity to play an important role in developing Railpen's long term business strategy.

What we can offer you

We are offering a competitive package (salary dependent on experience and location), 28 days holiday plus 8 days bank holiday, 15% performance related bonus, private medical insurance and a defined benefit pension scheme.

How to apply
